

Summer Internships with the Legal Aid Justice Center

The Legal Aid Justice Center is a nationally recognized, non-profit civil legal assistance program with offices in Charlottesville, Falls Church (Metro D.C.), and Richmond. Our dynamic staff of more than two dozen attorneys pursue systemic legal advocacy for low-income Virginians using a wide array of strategies. Through legal representation, community education and statewide advocacy, the Legal Aid Justice Center works both to eliminate the immediate symptoms and to address the underlying causes of poverty.

- The Economic Justice Program focuses on matters related to housing, mental health services, consumer protection, employment, and public benefits, and is home to several legal clinics.
- The Immigrant Advocacy Program supports low-wage immigrant workers throughout Virginia in their efforts to find justice and fair treatment in the workplace, including the Virginia Justice Project for Farm and Immigrant Workers which provides legal services and community legal education to farmworker and immigrant victims of crime.
- JustChildren provides individual representation to at-risk children, organizes parents to be effective youth advocates, and works to change laws and policies for the benefit of all children in Virginia.
- The Civil Rights and Racial Justice Program works to end the criminalization of poverty in Virginia through a strategic mix of community organizing, local and statewide policy advocacy, and impact litigation.

The Legal Aid Justice Center is committed to strengthening the voices of our low-income clients, working in collaboration with community partners, and rooting out the inequities that keep people in poverty. We strive to take on the issues that have broad impact on our client communities and to be responsive to client input. Recognizing the particular impact of racism on our clients and staff, we devote special attention to dismantling racial injustice.

All applicants must be dedicated to working in and sustaining an environment that enables staff and clients to feel empowered, valued, respected, and safe. In reviewing applications, we look for evidence that applicants have experience and/or thoughtfulness in working with traditionally marginalized populations.
